

if you were given this card.....

This card is about to go on a journey. On the back of this card, at the top, write the opening sentence to a mini story.

Then take this card and place it inside a book. It can be at a library, a bookstore, or your own book you're giving away!

Just make sure it's a book that will find another person someday—that's what matters!

if you found this card in a book.....

Turn this card over and read what has already been written. Then add the next sentence of the story!

Once you've added your sentence, take this card and put it in a book of your choice to send it on its journey once more.

If the story is complete, congrats! Enjoy your tiny story!

the story so far.....

a collaborative storytelling game
by elena murphy – @fatalst – fatalst.it.ch.io